Over 35 million smokers try to quit every year, yet less reach their one-year anniversary. It is a rare person who wakes up and spontaneously throws their cigarettes out and never smokes again. Nicotine's powerful grip on smokers effects them body, mind and habits, and these aren't changed easily.

For most smokers, the decision to quit involves great effort. The early phase-mulling it over and wondering what it would be like to live without nicotine. This is a very important phase because smokers begin to challenge their beliefs about smoking which will reinforce a person's abstinence when they finally decide to stop. To stop smoking successfully, the smoker has to be truly ready and truly believe they need to stop.

Why is nicotine so addictive? Each puff on a cigarette sends nicotine to the brain within 10 seconds. Immediately, people feel more alert and calm, sometimes euphoric. It feels good, so people have another puff. Soon the brain's chemistry structure actually changes. It becomes hooked into wanting more and more nicotine. Just think: if a typical pack a day smoker takes 10 "hits" off each cigarette, that's 200 "hits" of nicotine to the brain each day. No wonder smoking is so addictive.

Sue and Jim Cusack have begun to address nicotine use with the staff at the Villa. Sue and Jim have also instituted a stop smoking 12 step meeting at the Villa. The nonsmokers are trying to support those who struggle with nicotine dependency.

I think everyone has a personal story that involves tragedy around nicotine use. My father who died in August of 2006 refused to stop smoking when the doctors advised him of the effect on his health. When my family met with the doctors this last time my father was in ICU, he was informed that the reason he was dying was because he wouldn't stop smoking. My fathers response to the doctors was to leave ICU against medical advice and returned home and smoked till the day he died, two months later. My father was only 64 years old.

If people don't love themselves enough to stop smoking maybe it would help to think about the ones that love them and the effect they are having on their lives. I miss my father so much and it hurts to think that nicotine addiction is the reason he died so young.

What follows is a letter left by an anonymous guest.

Dear Jim,

I am writing this letter today out of the concern I have for countless people who are addicted to cigarettes. I've seen many suffer and die and many who go on with the constant struggle to deal with this addiction. Many have been friends I can no longer deal with because of the atmosphere of denial and persecution that surrounds them. They become defensive and sink deeper into this affliction simply because it is a legal substance and innocently enough have had their life taken over by their circumstances.

What I have just written in the previous paragraph could be about any other substance of abuse, yet, people somehow overlook it as that because of cigarettes history of acceptance. I believe nicotine has the same addictive powers as heroin. Knowing Veritas Villa's success in dealing with many other addictions I would hope that Veritas Villa sees the reason for addressing cigarette addiction with the same philosophy that other addictions are treated with at the Villa.

Most people think they should do it on their own and become extremely stressed when encountered to stop. I believe that Veritas Villa has the wherewithal to change this attitude. Please consider this among the many other challenges you have risen to. Sincerely, Anonymous

The Villa's slogan is: "It is possible to live and enjoy life without alcohol and other drugs", and this includes nicotine.
We recently attended the National Association of Addiction Treatment Providers in San Diego California from May 19 to 21, 2007. Michele Panko and Mike Menarchen also attended and did a great job explaining the Villa philosophy in the exhibitor booth. Our new display did us proud and helped us hold our own among the hundreds of other exhibitors.

The Conference was very well attended by treatment providers from all over the country, including Hazelden, Caron Foundation, Arms Acres and so many new programs as well. Overall we were very impressed by the excellent spirit of the entire conference. Staff, presenters and everyone there had a “back to basic”, 12 step spirit that encouraged an old time sharing of experience, strength and hope among all treatment centers attending.

We are presently sitting in San Diego Airport awaiting our flight back home to New York. It is very hard to express what we are feeling after this conference. We have always been innovative and stayed abreast of changes and trends in our field. We have also kept to our mission, tried to keep it simple and utilize the 12 step philosophy and managed to stick to the basics.

This NAATAP Conference was well attended and there were a tremendous amount of workshops on research projects that have been in the works for as many as 15 years!

THE RESEARCH DEVELOPERS HAVE FINALLY BROUGHT THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE 12 STEP

PROGRAMS INTO ITS RIGHTFUL PLACE AND SCIENCE HAS FINALLY CAUGHT UP WITH THE WISDOM THAT THE FOUNDERS OF A.A. HAD EXPERIENCED. These findings have now given the 12 step philosophy its well-deserved scientific recognition!!! THERE IS NOW SCIENTIFIC PROOF THAT 12 STEP PHILOSOPHY WORKS!!!!

At this time we would especially like to thank all our family, friends and colleagues both here and up above, for all the help, love and prayers they gave us so that we would never lose sight of our mission.

Love, Sue and Jim
Hope

My name is Barbara and I am an alcoholic. I am grateful for Alcoholics Anonymous and especially the fellowship that has always been there and supported me through my struggles.

I was introduced to the 12 steps of Alcoholics Anonymous through Veritas Villa. When I was admitted to the Villa I began shifting through the wreckage of my past and dealing with my self-worth in an effort to become a valued and productive member of society again. I went through the primary treatment program and extended program.

At the Villa, the principal guide to the Twelve Steps is Jim Cusack’s book, “Always Aware”. In this book Jim Cusack offers recovering addicts the option of taking the Steps “cafeteria style” or piecemeal and not necessarily in the order in which they’re written. In the beginning of my journey, I fought Step One tooth and nail. I thought my control was a gift from God and I was going to use it to learn how to drink socially. A major belief of mine was it was ok to have all things in moderation. I thought I was a social drinker who was experiencing a run of bad luck. When family, friends and doctors suggested I might be an alcoholic, I felt the object of unjust ridicule and malicious slander. I felt I was brilliant, but truly lacked common sense. My mother used to tell me “this is one you can’t outsmart”.

When I started to have alcohol related seizures, I became acutely aware I had lost control. My seizures convinced me I am powerless over alcohol. I have regained my sanity at the Villa. I had to be restored to sanity before I could logically reason I was powerless over alcohol, however at times I still struggle with acceptance.

I believe in a God who loves me and wants what’s best for me. I have faith God has a plan and purpose for me, and his will is that I trust Him in this. It is my understanding God works through people.

I reside at the Villa presently and have been given work assignments which has allowed me to utilize some of the skills I have developed over my life. I have learned the art of listening, taking direction and developing healthy boundaries. The fourth step has helped me to identify my character defects and shortcomings which I deal with on a daily basis by practicing all the steps.

I’ve discovered recovery isn’t something I can make happen: it is something that happens to me, provided I do the work. Today I feel a sense of peace and contentment. I’m confident I’m right where I’m supposed to be doing what I’m supposed to be doing.

Note from the Editor, Francis Lovell

I hope that this addition of the newsletter will be helpful to everyone. There are many additions and changes, including the format. You will find all announcements for upcoming events in this copy. It has been a lot of work and I would like to thank everyone for their contributions. There are many activities that the Villa is participating in and I hope I didn’t forget any of them.

Sue and Jim are very supportive to everyone especially myself. The ongoing struggle facing the treatment field seems to be never ending. Most treatments seem to be encouraging the use of various medication to stabilize natural symptoms that people go through in early recovery. Professionals seem to ignore the whole addictive thinking pattern of the addict, that addicts need to use some chemical to feel normal. If this thinking process is never addressed true recovery will never be achieved.

Sue and Jim are looked at as pioneers in the field of addictions. With over 90 years of combined experience’s, Sue and Jim’s basic philosophy is that we need to go back to the basics. Which means addressing the disease from an abstinence model. The Villa continues to use the abstinence model and encourages individuals to approach their recovery from this standpoint. I have personally seen the dangers using medication in recovery. It generally is an immediate fix which results in long term disaster.

It seems like the addiction field is always being challenged by various different treatment modalities that go contrary to the abstinence philosophy. There are no long term outcome studies that indicates the success of these alternative treatment approaches, however there are such studies that validate the 12 step model. I often think that the medical field is experimenting with addicts instead of utilizing, a proven way of success such as abstinence. Everything is based on cost effectiveness verses successful long term abstinence.
Memorial Day Service
By Father John Hauser

Father John Hauser presided over the day and quoted Sir James Barrie, the English writer, as saying, “God gave us our memories so that we might have roses in December.” Memorial Day is a traditional day of remembrance here at Veritas Villa. We remember here people past and present, who have had a positive impact on countless people on their road of recovery.

Once again this year on May 28th we gathered to renew our mission and to recall in a special way two people, in particular, who passed this year with as the scriptures say” with their good works following them....” Father Bob Milde and Jimmy Tisher made Veritas Villa very special as they graced us all with their presence and their experience, strength, and hope. They are deeply missed but I am sure their spirits live on here as they watch over our mission to the alcoholic and the addict.

Father John Hauser also celebrated his 36th Anniversary of His Ordination on May 28, 2007. Everyone at the Villa is very grateful for his spiritual direction in recovery and wish Father John Hauser the best.

Family Ties by Joe Stoeckeler
Executive Director

Having worked at the Villa for about 17 months and experiencing many challenges, I would like to thank everyone who made my transition here so positive. I’m glad to be part of a recovery movement that brings so many people together in a positive atmosphere. While at times I feel overwhelmed hearing and seeing client satisfaction especially with the family program. It is encouraging to see everyone get involved in the recovery process and participate in the Veritas Villa Family Program.

The Villa vigorously pursues its policy requiring family involvement in our clients care. The family program is offered every 10 days to accommodate varying family member work schedules. The family outcomes. When clients actually hear and see their loved ones express true feelings and perceptions the process of change sometimes starts immediately. Reinforced by other staff and the fellowship, the changes are often permanent.

This Memorial Day has been a time of reflection while having a sense of gratitude for people that have paved the recovery road for all of us. There have been significant losses this past year and these are surely felt in the recovering community.

Looking to the future, I see many possibilities at the Villa. I think the treatment field is facing challenging times. As long as we continue to address the whole person, utilizing a holistic approach to treatment and the abstinence model; Veritas Villa will surely lead the treatment field in the future.

A Program Designed for Women By Women

Veritas Villa has been treating women for chemical dependency for more than 30 years. The Villa recognizes that treatment issues are in many ways different for women than for men and that separate treatment and groups for women are a crucial aspect of recovery.

The Women’s Program is completely staffed by female staff members with special training in and sensitivity towards women’s recovery issues. The Villa has a commitment to providing an atmosphere of safety, dignity, and respect for every client.

Sue Cusack has written a pamphlet published by Hazeldon entitled “Women and Relapse” which has been revised recently.

Nutrition for Sobriety—can be used as an adjunct to aid in physical, emotional, and mental recovery. Low fat, moderate protein, high complex-carbohydrate diet can aide in the promotion of sobriety.
Ray Bajada - “Long weekends means extra time with our families.”

Shana Heaney - “It is nice to be back at home for the summer from school.”

Francis Lovell - “Life is challenging but with the support of family and extended families you can deal with anything.”

Kathy Smithen - “My grandchildren are the light of my life. In the future I can teach my grandchildren the importance of not drinking and drugging from all that I’ve learned at the Villa.”

Tom Murphy - “After 2.5 years of sobriety, I have the trust of my family back and I’m able to be a positive role model for my child.”

Carol Waldron - “While working Sundays for the last seven years, I have seen incredible family bonding not only with the clients but also the staff at the Villa.”

Andy Fran - “The villa is more than family to me it’s home.”

Eugene Ricchetti – “If it wasn’t for my daughter, I don’t know were I would be today!”

Darlene McMillian - “Families need to support one another through life!”

Joanne Tirante - “VV is family to me because everyone is always there to listen and support each other. Everyone is warm, kind and supportive.”

Freddie Riccetti – “I have never felt more at home than I do at the Villa.”

Joe Mc Killip - “Blood is thicker than alcohol. I realize the importance of family more today than I did in the past.”

Bob Elting - “Family is very important in recovery and we always need to be aware of the effect we have on our family.”

Eddie Mc Donnell - “Since deciding to stay at Veritas Villa and following directions of my Veritas Villa family, I now get along better with my natural family.”

Luwayna Williams & Roger Hetherington
“Today we not only have a life but we have a loving family.”

Kim Wolfe - “Family is where the heart is!”

Lyn Rubin - “Extended families are the back bone of this nation. I love my adopted nieces and they have changed my life.”

Medical Department - “A thoughtful act or kind word may pass in a moment but the warmth and care of family stay in the heart forever.”

Diane Boyd - “Recovery has given me the ability to accept differences in my family both biological and extended.”

Matt Ryan - “The men and women who worked ground zero and their families are the forgotten victims of 911.”

Father Jack Hauser - “A common mission is the spiritual bond of the Villa Family.”

Sue Heath - “Family is the root of all that is good in our lives, and I am so grateful for mine.”

Steve Stawski - “My family is worth more than all the gold in the world.”

Denise Cusack - Gave a quote from Mother Teresa, “Love begins at home. We show love by thoughtfulness, by kindness, by sharing joy, and by sharing a smile.”

Les Mc Candless - “Support and family knowledge concerning the disease of addiction general helps to reinforce a person’s chances at staying clean.”

Kenny Lavery - “The relationship with my family has gotten better through my recovery. I have been able to make amends over the years which has allowed me to be there for my family members during difficult times as well as happy times.”

Gerry Maniaci - “Recovery has given me the ability and gift to care for my elderly parents and help them fell loved and safe after the tragic death of my brother.”
Remarks From Family Members

"Thanks for your phone call this past week, Jim, concerning my son. You have no idea how much it means to me that you have taken a personal interest in him and his recovery. It is beyond words how deep my gratitude reaches to people like you who care so profoundly about our children who are suffering from the disease of addiction. My prayers are with you and Sue, each and every day, that you continue to find the motivation it requires to receive and spread the gift you have been given to others who are suffering. I can't thank you enough when I look into the hopeful eyes of my son. Keep up the good work...he's worth it...just as well as all of the other patients and families I've met during his stay. I look forward to meeting with you and the rest of my family. I know, (yet I don't), how much you've invested into the Villa. But for what it's worth, you've made a difference in one life...and then some. Thank you, and God Bless! "
Sincerely, Parents

"Our daughter was kind enough to send us a copy of "The Road to a Spiritual Healing", which we have now watched and listened to many times, and each time its played we find a new piece of wisdom and insight into the workings and concepts incorporated in your program of hope and healing. I am very impressed and hopeful, as Sue suggests in the introduction, that this is the first in a series of presentations on the philosophy of the 12 steps and the fellowship concept. As you point out, the idea that the client should be responsible and accountable is of primary importance.

Jim, listening to your discussion of the 12 steps, one very perceptive theme stands out i.e. "Relying upon and helping other human beings." Through the entire 12 you drive home the concept that helping each other will help make a road map for the spiritual, healing, and awakening process.

You have woven in some very interesting and relevant attention getting stories, (e.g. the Japanese admiral in step #4 and camping story in step #7). There must be many more inspiring stories you could tell to be included in you planned future seminars on tape, perhaps a tape on each of the 12 steps with anecdotes to illustrate the points as you have done so well in this, the first of the series.

We congratulate you both on your success at the Villa and thank you and your wonderful staff for saving and improving the lives of so many who have passed your way and experienced the values, the warmth and the compassion inherent in your very successful program.

With sincere good wishes for your continued success,"

John & Barbara Murray

In Residence Family Program

For many years it has been consistent with the philosophy at Veritas Villa to include the family in treatment of disease of Chemical Addictions. Our, in-residence program is offered for the families of those afflicted with the disease of addiction with focus on the healing of relationships.

The program curriculum consists of education, identifying the roles that the families play, group sharing, and individual and group counseling.

Recent studies have shown that this holistic approach in the treatment of addiction brings about a decrease in physical disorders of the family members, lowers the incidence of sibling involvement in addiction, decreases the percentage of suicide and divorce, and lowers the incidence of relapse.
We are proud that the State of New York Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services has approved Veritas Villa, Inc., as an Education and Training Provider. Our trainings provide necessary courses to those who are seeking credentialing and re-credentialing. Certificates of completion are given and signed by the presenter at the end of each workshop.

We hold our trainings February through November, every Friday, 9 am to 4 pm. A continental breakfast is served in Mary’s Sunshine Room and at lunchtime, participants and presenters join us in our dining room. A minimal fee of $30.00 per workshop is necessary to cover costs.

Jim and Sue Cusack, Founders of Veritas Villa, Inc. are supporters of continuing education in the field, and are so aware of the necessity of continuing education.

Veritas Villa, Inc. workshop schedule, information on presenters and individual workshops, and the registration form can be found on our website at www.veritasvilla.com. Click on calendar.

If you would like to be added onto our mailing list to receive our workshop booklet, you may send an email to chrismensche@veritasvilla.com or feel free to call Chris at 845-626-3555 extension 149.

Message from an Intern

By Jane Brown

I am enjoying my internship here at Veritas Villa, “House of Truth.” The Villa family has welcomed me and taught me so much. All this time, I thought that the light at the end of the tunnel was “Hoboken,” but now I know otherwise!

I believe that folks get a very special “kick start” into recovery here. I have witnessed God’s helpers right here in Kerhonkson, getting them ready and prepared to re-enter their worlds anew. I believe that God will keep them snug in the warmth of His care.

Internships are designed to help make transition from passive learner to active professional. Villa staff has embraced me and helped me discover my readiness and to utilize my skills.

The staff here is professional, warm, and dedicated. I have found that the Villa is a nice place to work, and a nice place to get well. I now add my internship to my gratitude list.

We all have stories to tell. From primitive cave drawings to present day technologies, stories have been exposed, released and used as healing tools. We are all human - warts and all! Here, nestled in God’s mountains, folks step into recovery and willfully turn profound sadness into uncontainable joy!

“Always remain teachable!” —
Training and Research for the Chemically Dependent

Dear Friends:

Friends of the Villa was founded in January 1979 by some dedicated people who cared about what happened to the “new person” leaving the Villa after treatment and returning home alone to attend their first meeting. They were concerned with this need and organized Friends of the Villa with a two-fold purpose namely:

To provide a contact and follow-up for guests leaving the Villa—to let them know they are not alone or forgotten. A friend would contact them and take them to a meeting.

To keep the departing guest in contact with the Villa and help him/her enjoy life without chemicals by participating in “Fun in Sobriety” events sponsored by Friends of the Villa.

Today it remains a thriving major component of Friends of the Villa.

Friend of the Villa arrange for sober and fun activities and encourages other people to participate in all activities. Below is a list of activities scheduled throughout the year. Please contact Joe Mc Cauley at 718-375-5787.

Friends of the Villa

Dear Friends:

Let us start this letter by giving you a very special thank you on behalf of all the staff past and present and especially for the thousands of people who have come through the doors of Veritas Villa. You have all played a major role and a very vital part of the Villa’s success.

Since our early days in 1965 our Friends and Alumni have been very helpful in continuing our philosophy of treatment and have all shared their own experience with newcomers all through the years. Treatment, as we know it, has been going through changes and it is our belief that sometimes we ask chemically dependent people to deal with too much too soon. There is not enough emphasis placed on the time of healing and fun in sobriety.

We would like to take an active role in renewing the Friends of the Villa, not only to offer some help but to continue the value of fellowship and be able to tap into the enthusiasm and willingness that people early in recovery want to give back. We believe that Friends of the Villa have played a major role in the success of the Villa and we want to re-ignite that spark with your help. Can we count on you?

With love and gratitude,

Jim and Sue Cusack
